

FEES PAID UNITED STATES ATTORNEYS.

MARCH 24, 1876.—Recommitted to the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice and ordered to be printed.

Mr. DURHAM, by unanimous consent, from the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice, submitted the following REPORT:

[To accompany bill H. R. 2822.]

The Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice, to whom was referred the following resolution, viz :

JANUARY 13, 1876.

On motion of Mr. PARSONS of Kentucky,

Resolved, That the Committee on Expenditures in the Department of Justice be, and they are hereby, instructed to inquire into the employment of special counsel by the Department in cases where the United States is a party, and to report to this House the number of special counsel so employed, the nature of the cases, and the amount of fees paid them for services; also the amount of extra fees, if any, paid to district attorneys of the United States in similar cases.

And this investigation the committee are directed to extend as far back as may be necessary to a full knowledge of what has been and is being done by said Department in the way of paying fees for services in the character of cases mentioned.

would report:

That they have extended their investigations from the organization of said Department, viz, July 1, 1870, to January 1, 1876, and find that a large number of special counsel have been employed by said Department in cases where the United States is a party, and a large amount of fees has been paid to them. They also find that many and a large amount of fees have been paid to district attorneys of the United States in similar cases. The whole number of special counsel employed is about 164, and the fees paid them $220,228.46. The amount paid district attorneys of the United States during the same time has been $53,389.20.

A detailed statement of when, where, and in what cases said fees were paid is filed herewith, marked "A," and made a part thereof. Besides the above there are on file many claims for fees of large amounts awaiting the action of the Department, and yet unadjusted.

While your committee is of opinion that the United States should be ably represented in all cases where large amounts are involved, or where grave and serious crimes have been committed, yet we are of opinion that the regular district attorneys can manage many of these cases alone where large fees have been paid for assistant attorneys.

While good attorneys should be employed when absolutely needed, and reasonable fees paid them, yet the fees generally paid these assistants are very much larger than are paid for similar services rendered for individuals, and in many instances are exorbitant and unreasonable. In some instances the fees paid these assistants for six months' or even three or four months' labor, amounts to more than the yearly salary of the Attorney-General of the United States.

We also think in many instances the fees paid the regular United States district attorneys for extra work are large and exorbitant, and for the purpose of rectifying the evil complained of, and that the Attorney-General may have some assistance in regulating these matters, we present herewith a bill repealing section 363 of the Revised Statutes of the United States and substituting another section therefor, and ask that the same may be passed; and this is submitted as our report.

A.

A statement showing the employment of special counsel by the Department of Justice, in cases where the United States is a party, and the number of counsel so employed; nature of the cases; the amount of fees paid them for services, and the amount of extra fees, if any, paid to district attorneys of the United States, in similar cases, from the first of July, 1870, to January 1, 1876.
